

DIGI 2000: Introduction to GIS

Instructor: Meagan Duever

This 1 credit course will introduce the theory and concepts of GIS (geographic information systems), particularly as they related to the humanities, allow students to evaluate and gain hands-on experience with ArcGIS software, and to critically engage in geospatial information. Open to all majors. Undergrads and grad students welcome.

Thursdays 10:10-11:00 am

Digital Humanities Lab – 300 Main Library